Exercises

1. (self-attempt)
2. The French army took a young English soldier as a prisoner. He was a poor sailor, a man of no importance. So, he was allowed to wander about on the sea-shore. He felt homesick in a foreign land. He missed his motherland. He wished to go back to his country. He started making a small boat out of a log of wood. At last, the boat was ready. As soon as he floated it into the water, a French sergeant came and arrested him. The young man was produced before Napoleon along with the boat that he had made. Napoleon was amused to look at the tiny boat. He asked the young man why he wanted to go home. The young man replied that he wanted to be in his motherland. The French Emperor gave him a pleasant surprise. He gave him some gold coins and set him free. Moral: Love for motherland is universal.

CHAPTER - 25 LETTER WRITING

Exercises

1. Kanika (W.B.)

My dear Shilpa,

I understand that now-a-days you are not seriously concentrating on your studies. I also received a letter from your school principal about your poor performance in the last exams. You are now a grown-up girl. You must understand that by neglecting your studies, you will be doing harm to your future career. This is the time to build up the career with honest efforts. If necessary, you may join a coaching class for help. I shall write to our father to pay for it. Please write to me if you have any personal problems. Accept me not only as your beloved sister, but also as an intimate friend to whom you may easily open your mind. I am ready to guide and help you in all matters. Yours affectionately,

Didi
